Three die in accidents on Ky. 519, Ky. 7

A three-vehicle crash on Ky. 519 and a one vehicle wreck on Ky. 191 have claimed the lives of three Morgan Countians.

Killed on Ky. 519 around 1:00 p.m. last Thursday when their 1995 Oldsmobile Cutlass was struck by a 2001 Dodge Neon that went out of control and careened into their path were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Morris of Ky. 191 West Liberty. Both Donald Morris, 68, and his wife, Jean Morris, 62, were pronounced dead at the scene by Morgan County Coroner Kenny Perry. The crash occurred on the Debby Hill near the Morgan-Rowan county line.

Pronounced dead at the scene on Monday after her 2001 GMC pickup struck a guardrail on Ky. 191 and overturned near the State Highway Garage was Diane Saylor, 51, of West Liberty. The accident occurred around 9:00 a.m.

State Police said the Morrisses died after the northbound Dodge Neon, driven by Nakita Oakley, 19, of West Liberty, went out of control and slid into the southbound passing lane and struck a southbound 2000 Chevrolet Blazer driven by Christina Flannery, 33, of Hazel Green. Oakley's vehicle then continued on into the southbound slow lane and collided with the Morrisses' vehicle.

Oakley, who was seriously injured, was airlifted to UK Medical Center in Lexington. Flannery and Tiffany Flannery, 18, a passenger in the Blazer, were transported to St. Claire Medical Center in Morehead.

State Police, who are investigating both wrecks, said Saylor's pickup overturned after striking the guardrail and overturned, partially ejecting her from the vehicle. She was not wearing a seatbelt, police said.

Officers had not determined if seatbelts were in use in the three vehicles involved in the wreck on Ky. 519 that claimed the Morgan couple's lives.

Kiwanis Turkey Bowl scheduled for Nov. 29

The second annual Turkey Bowl Cornhole Tournament sponsored by the West Liberty Kiwanis club is scheduled for 6 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 29, in the Morgan County Community Center Gymnasium. The double elimination tournament is open to all ages. You must have a partner to enter.

Prizes include first place, $150; second place, $100; and third place, $50. The entry fee is $20 per team. A drawing will be held for opponents prior to the start of the tournament.

Registration begins at 5 p.m. and the drawing will be at 5:45 p.m. All entries must be signed by 5:30 p.m. For information, call 606-743-4415 or 606-743-4995. All proceeds will benefit Kiwanis community projects.

Cave Run musky

Randy Maloney, left, of Maytown, and friend Jerry Lane, of Ezel, recently caught this 40-inch musky at Cave Run Lake. Randy and Jerry enjoy being a part of the outdoors. Though their outings rarely produce a fish like this, this one will provide enough good memories of an October fishing trip to the lake to last a lifetime.

Bids are awarded for road work, Blackwater bridge

The Morgan County Fiscal Court at its Nov. 12 regular meeting accepted bids from Triple J Construction Co. and David Cade for repair work on the Indian Creek Road and Jones Creek road.

The Court also accepted a bid from Frederick & May Construction Co. for construction of a new bridge on Blackwater Creek near Maytown.

In other action, the Court approved the appointment of David Ison, Elaine Bartley and Jennifer Adkins to the Morgan County Extension Board. Adkins was named to fill the unexpired term of Ryan O'Neal. Ison and Bartley will serve full terms.

Other actions, including the purchase of a fire alarm system for the County Government Building and the adoption of a roadway into the county road system, are included in the Court's November minutes, below:

Members present – Magistrates Denzil Potter, Randy Cantrell, Stanley Riggsby, Frankie Spencer and Burton Stacy, and Judge Executive Tim Conley.

Patrick murder case goes to the grand jury

Bullets that killed Patrick, hit abductor from different guns

Ballistic tests released last Thursday by the Kentucky State Police indicate that the bullet that killed Melissa Patrick of Malone and bullets that wounded her abductor were fired from different guns.

Patrick was killed after being abducted from her residence early Monday, Nov. 10, by Robin Mapel, a jail escapee from Montgomery County.

Police said that the two projectiles retrieved from Patrick's body during her autopsy appear to have been 9 mm rounds fired from a handgun that was found in the vehicle in which she was abducted.

In addition, police said, bullet fragments removed from Mapel, who is the father of Patrick's 18-month-old child, were consistent with a round from an SKS rifle.

After seeing Mapel fire shots at Patrick and push her into her car, the woman's step-father, Robert Perkins, in an attempt to prevent the abduction, reportedly fired the rifle at Mapel as he drove the car down the driveway toward Ky. 191.

Patrick's body was found in the car about an hour later on Ky. 1162 where Mapel, who was wounded in the chest, stopped the vehicle in the driveway of Edgar King.

Mapel, who was airlifted to the UK Hospital in Lexington, has since been released from the hospital and has been moved to an undisclosed jail, according to a Lexington TV news report.

State Police presented findings from the investigation to the Morgan County Grand Jury on Tuesday.

Board hopes to name new superintendent in April

Criteria, deadlines to be followed in selection process are announced

By Miranda Cantrell James

The Morgan County Board of Education has announced the criteria it will follow for selecting and interviewing candidates for superintendent of schools.

Superintendent of Schools Joe Dan Gold announced earlier this month that he plans to retire on June 30, 2009.

According to Board Chairman Marshall Jenkins, the selection of the new superintendent is scheduled to be announced on April 10, 2009. The selection process will be as follows:

According to KRS 160.352, the candidate screening committee will be comprised of two teachers elected by teachers, one board of education member appointed by the board chair, one parent elected by presidents of district parent-teacher organizations and one classified employee elected by classified employees.

The committee will seek the following qualifications in Superintendent Gold's successor:

- Energetic
- Instructional leader.
- Administrative experience.
- Good oral and written communication skills.
- Background or experience with finance/budgeting.
- Student-centered.
- Motivational.

The following timetable will be observed throughout the search and hiring process:

Search Schedule

- Nov. 15, 2008 – Advertising begins.
- November/December 2008 – Screening committee organized.
- Feb. 25, 2009 – First screening committee meeting, charge and applicant files, paper screening begins.
- March 2, 2009 – Second screening committee meeting, applicants chosen for background and reference checks, background and reference checks begin.

- March 9, 2009 – Third screening committee meeting, recommendations finalized for board of education, applicant files and all notes turned over to board of education.

- March 11, 2009 – Joint meeting between board of education and screening committee to receive committee recommendations, board of education planning meeting following joint meeting.

- March 15-April 1, 2009 – Board of education interviews with candidates.

- April 10, 2009 – New superintendent is named.

Board of education members during an Oct. 22 special meeting voted to hire the Kentucky School Board Association (KSBA) to assist with the superintendent search process.

More information regarding the superintendent search and hiring process can be obtained by contacting KSBA Superintendent Search Services Manager Mike Oder at 1-800-372-2962, or Morgan County Board of Education Chairman Marshall Jenkins at 606-522-4172.

Citizens may also visit KSBA's superintendent search webpage at <http://ksba.org/employment/details/morgan-county-superintendent/>.

Emergency Management Thanksgiving Safety Tips

Turkey Fryers

Morgan County Emergency Management wishes everyone a safe and happy Thanksgiving Holiday with this safety tips.

A longtime food favorite in the southern United States, the delicious dee-fried turkey has quickly grown in popularity thanks to celebrity chefs such as Martha Stewart and Emeril Lagasse. While some people rave about this tasty creation.

We're worried by the increasing reports of fires related with turkey fryer use. Based on UL test findings, the fryers used to produce those great-tasting birds are not worth the risks. And, as a result of these tests.

Here's why using a deep-fryer can be dangerous

- Many units easily tip over, spilling the hot oil within the cooking pot.
- If the cooking pot is overfilled with oil, the oil may spill out of the unit when the turkey is placed into the cooking pot. Oil may hit the burner/flames causing a fire to engulf the entire unit.
- Partially frozen turkeys placed into the fryer can cause a spillover effect. This too, may result in an extensive fire.
- With no thermostat controls, the units also have the potential to overheat the oil to the point of combustion.
- The sides of the cooking pot, lid and pot handles get dangerously hot, posing severe burn hazards.

Here are some tips for safer use

- Turkey fryers should always be used outdoors a safe distance from buildings and any other material that can burn.

- Never use turkey fryers on wooden decks or in garages.
- Make sure the fryers are used on a flat surface to reduce accidental tipping.
- Never leave the fryer unattended. Most units do not have thermostat controls. If you don't watch the fryer carefully, the oil will continue to heat until it catches fire.
- Never let children or pets near the fryer when in use. Even after use, never allow children or pets near the turkey fryer. The oil inside the cooking pot can remain dangerously hot, hours after use.
- To avoid oil spillover, do not overfill the fryer.
- Use well-insulated potholders or oven mitts when touching pot or lid handles. If possible, wear safety goggles to protect your eyes from oil splatter.
- Make sure the turkey is completely thawed and be careful with marinades. Oil and water don't mix, and water causes oil to spill over, causing a fire or even an explosion hazard.

• The National Turkey Federation recommends refrigerator thawing and to allow approximately 24 hours for every five pounds of bird thawed in the refrigerator.

• Keep an all-purpose fire extinguisher nearby. Never use water to extinguish a grease fire. remember to use your best judgment when attempting to fight a fire. If the fire is manageable, use an all-purpose fire extinguisher. If the fire increases, immediately call 9-1-1 for help.

• Even after use, never allow children or pets near the turkey fryer. The oil inside the cooking pots remains dangerously hot, hours after use.

UNITE to begin operations in Elliott County

SANDY HOOK — Elliott County Judge Executive David Blair has announced that his administration has worked out and signed an interlocal agreement to bring Operation UNITE and all services provided by the agency to the citizens of Elliott County.

Operation UNITE is an acronym meaning Unlawful Narcotics Investigations, Treatment and Education and was launched in 1003 by 5th District Congressman Hal Rogers. Funded primarily through federal grants from the U.S. Department of Justice, Operation UNITE works to rid communities of illegal drug use through undercover narcotics investigations, coordinating treatment for substance abusers, providing support to families and friends of substance abusers, and educating the public about the dangers of using drugs.

Judge Blair said that he and the fiscal court have, and will, do all they can to rid Elliott County of illegal drug use and provide a safe living environment for all of its citizens.

For more information about UNITE and its programs, interested citizens are encouraged to visit the Operation UNITE official website located at www.operationunite.org

Morgan County ARH Business Office staff supports platoon serving in Iraq

Nov. 4 — The Administrative Staff of Morgan County ARH Hospital is incredibly proud of the hospital's Business Office personnel for their enthusiasm and willingness to support a platoon of soldiers serving in Iraq, said Steve Gavalchik, Community CEO.

"Two members of our Business Office, Lisa Ratliff and Shannon Keeton, were discussing our servicemen and women one day and thought it would be great to support our troops currently serving overseas during the holiday season," said Gavalchik. "They searched online for such services and found an organization."

"I found a website, AdoptaPlatoon, and signed us up," said Ratliff. "We had to wait for someone to call and verify our information for the security of the soldiers. Once Shannon and I started talking about it, others in our department wanted to join in and help out as well."

Originally, the thought was to adopt one soldier that was in need or maybe a small group of three, but when the Business Office received their information about the platoon, they found out that they were given twelve soldiers in Iraq.

With the assignment of the platoon, the Business Office was given a main point of contact to send letters and CARE packages to, they were informed of the kind of living conditions that the soldiers were in and a few of the things that the soldiers had requested. The soldiers in their platoon are deployed from Germany now through October 2009.

The Business Office has committed to send at least one CARE package a month and one letter, card or postcard per week now through August 2009. The soldiers are under no obligation to write back and the Business Office must continue contact even if they don't hear from the soldiers.

Ratliff stated, "We mailed our first package on November 3rd and sent our first letter last week. We sent chips, candy, razors, a checkers game, dried fruit, gum, note pads, pens, a deck of cards, puzzles, Ziploc bags (so they can share the food), popcorn, crossword puzzle book, drink mixes, bandanas, microwavable Mac and Cheese, sunflower seeds, granola bars and raisins."

AdoptaPlatoon has a list of suggested items to send on their website, such as chips, cookies, personal hygiene products, etc. There are different ways that people can help, including a one time contribution, a pen pal or ongoing support. If anyone is interested in supporting a troop or platoon, feel free to call Lisa Ratliff at 606-743-3186 ext. 385.

A Funny

At one time Gershwin thought of taking some lessons from Ravel in Paris, but nothing came of it. Later a story went the rounds explaining what happened. Gershwin had asked the French composer for lessons, and was answered with the question: "How much do you earn a year from your compositions?"

"Between one hundred and two hundred thousand dollars," replied Gershwin.

"That it is I who must ask you to teach me to compose."

Dr. John and Andrea (Lay) Huff

Lay-Huff wedding reception is scheduled Sunday, Nov. 30

Hazel Green Christian Church cordially invites friends and family to attend a reception honoring the marriage of John and Andrea (Lay) Huff.

The reception will be 2-4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 30, in the Fellowship Hall of Hazel Green Christian Church.

Dr. and Mrs. Huff were married Nov. 15, 2008, in Crestwood, Ky., at Duncan Memorial Chapel. The couple resides in Louisville.

Andrea is the daughter of Carl and Marilyn Lay, of Elizabethtown, Ky.

John is the son of Ernie and Peggy Huff, of Hazel Green, Ky., and the grandson of John R. and the late Eula Mae Buchanan Hutchins. (Pd.)

In honor of our mother on her 80th birthday

Mary Jane Fyffe

To one who bears
the sweetest name,
And adds the pleasure,
not the gain
Who shares our joy
and cheers when sad,
The greatest friend
we've ever had Long life to her for there's no other can take the place
of our dear Mother.
Happy 80th birthday, Mom
We love you bunches!

Holiday ornament from Morgan on display in Frankfort

FRANKFORT — With the help of Morgan County Extension Homemakers, Morgan County is part of the Kentucky Treasures holiday celebration, a new tradition to showcase the jewels of the Commonwealth located at the Thomas D. Clark Center for Kentucky History in Frankfort.

As part of the Kentucky Treasures holiday tradition, the Kentucky Historical Society sought handcrafted ornaments from homemakers groups and historic sites across the state. The Kentucky Treasures Tree is this year's focal point of the inaugural year of a new tradition at the Center for Kentucky History.

Morgan County Extension Homemakers has been an organized group for more than 56 years in Morgan County.

The Kentucky Treasures Tree, on display in Commonwealth Hall from November 11 throughout the holiday season, showcases ornaments from more than 80 counties and 15 historic sites.

For more information about The Kentucky Treasures Tree or about the Kentucky Historical Society, contact Laura Coleman at (502) 564-1792, or visit www.history.ky.gov.

Ezel Elementary

Math-a-thon Raises $400 for St. Jude's

This year, 10 Ezel Elementary School children participate in the Math-a-thon for St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital. Students worked over 200 math problems each, and then collected donations from friends and family for St. Jude's. Money raised goes to help meet patients' expenses and cancer research. This year, EES students raised $400 in donations and received certificates, t-shirts, and free passes to any Six Flags theme park in recognition of their efforts. The school's donation this year brings the total amount Ezel School has sent to St. Jude's to nearly $15,000! Thanks to all who participated and to those who contributed to this year's math-a-thon.

Season Your Holiday With Safety

During the Thanksgiving holiday, the most active - and accident prone - room in the house is the kitchen. The suggestions below will help ensure you and your family have a safe, festive holiday season this year.

- ✓ Never throw water on a grease fire. Instead, cover the burning pan with a lid.
- ✓ Never overload electrical outlets. Unplug appliances when not in use.
- ✓ Make sure your fire extinguisher is properly located and operable.
- ✓ Never leave the kitchen unattended when cooking.
- ✓ Don't store items on the stove top - they could catch fire.

Why you should care about diabetes

November is American Diabetes Month

It is the leading cause of kidney disease, blindness, and amputation, yet nearly 25% of people who have it don't even know it. This November, during American Diabetes Month®, the American Diabetes Association (ADA) is asking "Why should you care about diabetes?"

Chances are, you – or someone you love – have been affected by diabetes in some way. But even if you haven't been affected by diabetes, you need to know that diabetes is the biggest public health crisis of the 21st century, and it continues to grow to epidemic proportions. Nearly 24 million children and adults in the United States, have diabetes. The death rate for diabetes has continued to grow since 1987, while the death rates due to heart disease, stroke and cancer have declined.

Having diabetes places a person at increased risk for a number of serious, even life-threatening complications, including:

Heart disease and stroke - Adults with diabetes have heart disease death rates about 2 to 4 times higher than adults without diabetes.

Blindness - Diabetic retinopathy causes 12,000 to 24,000 new cases of blindness each year making diabetes the leading cause of new cases of blindness in adults 20-74 years of age.

Kidney disease - Diabetes is the leading cause of kidney failure, accounting for 44% of new cases in 2002.

Amputations - More than 60% of nontraumatic lower-limb amputations occur in people with diabetes.

Remembering the 'ABCs of diabetes' can help to prevent or delay the onset of these serious diabetes complications:

A1C - For most people with diabetes, it is important to keep their A1C (average blood glucose level over 2 or 3 months) less than 7 percent.

Blood Pressure - People with diabetes should have a target blood pressure of less than 130/80 mmHg.

Cholesterol - LDL (bad) cholesterol should be below 100 mg/dl; HDL (healthy) cholesterol should be above 40 mg/dl for men and 50 mg/dl for women; triglycerides should be below 150 mg/dl.

For more information about American Diabetes Month, please visit the American Diabetes Association at HYPERLINK "http://www.diabetes.org" www.diabetes.org or call 1-888-DIABETES (1-888-342-2382). Information from both these sources is available in English and Spanish.

SNOW DOWN

So softly silent fell the snow,
And trees were loath to let it go;
They held it tight in bare, bleak arms,
To feast upon its crystal charms.
And in the early morning beams
A bit of fairyland it seems
So white beneath the wide, blue sky,
With just a few clouds banking high.
Ah, beautiful in early dawn,
It is so good to look upon!
I fear me, though, before the night
The earth will lose her dress of white.
For soot and grime, too, soon destroy
This lovely bit of winter joy:
We may but file it safe away
In memory — this break of day!

Unbroken Promises

There's an old saying, "Don't put all your eggs in one basket." If something happens to that basket all those eggs might break! It's difficult to put all our trust in others; we are often discouraged by misleading information and broken promises. At times it seems easier to trust only ourselves. Is it possible to put all our confidence in something other than ourselves? There is a safe haven for all our trust; God. God does not break His promises; His advice is straightforward and sure. It is possible to place ourselves in His hands. "God shall cover you with his feathers, and under his wings shall you trust; his truth shall be your shield and protection" (Psalm 91:4). Discover more about God at your house of worship. You can put all your eggs in His basket.

‘If it wasnt for this old courthouse here you would have lots of friends’

By W. Lynn Nickell
Jehizah P. Haney was elected county attorney in 1904. He was a member of the committee to oversee construction of the courthouse built in 1907. Evidently there were problems with the building company, Falls City Construction Co., when the courthouse was built over 100 years ago. (Those problems couldn't have been structural!) As county attorney, Haney filed a law suit against the firm. The trial was to be moved to Elliott county in a change of venue. If there was ever a trial, or what the suit was about, I have not been able to ascertain.

In 1932, when Jehizah was 66 years old and the courthouse 25 years old, he came back to Morgan County for a visit and an unusual incident happened.

He wrote a letter to Mr. F. S. Brong, editor of The Licking Valley Courier, venting his frustrations about the incident and the courthouse. Mr. Brong had evidently written an editorial expressing fault with construction of the courthouse.

Haney wrote: "I was sitting in front of the courthouse in our town, greeting and being greeted by many old time friends. A very good friend of mine being present, remarked, "Haney, you have a host of friends in this county." I said, "Well, I am glad." Then he came back with this remark, "O well, if it wasn't for this old courthouse here you would have lots more friends."

Haney was on a committee of three who oversaw the building of the courthouse. It was a dirty, nasty job, according to Haney. "I knew nothing about that character of construction work and should not have been on the committee. I have always wished I had not been on it."

Haney continued: "Until that friend mentioned the courthouse in connection with the number of friends I had, or might have had, it had never occurred to me that any man, living or dead, had ever thought that I was guilty of any wrong doing with respect to its construction. Well, that remark of my friend was so stunning that I offered no defense in my own behalf. The effort would have been futile, so the matter stopped there."

Mr. Haney went on in his letter pressing the point that sometimes things change. It seems that before construction began, he had written a letter to Martin L. Conley, superintendent of the Kentucky Block Cannel Coal Company at Cannel City, for advice on building a concrete block building. Mr. Conley was a graduate of the University of Kentucky College of Engineering and well qualified to give advice on the subject.

Conley gave the courthouse committee recommendations on constructing concrete blocks in a letter to Haney dated April 2, 1907. Conley stated in his letter that he knew two of three men that would be able to supervise the construction of a concrete building. They would need to know the date of construction start and salaries. "I agree with you in the matter of inspection," wrote Conley. "As I know of no class of work which could be as much slighted and harmful results come there from, as in the construction of concrete buildings, and would advise the most rigid inspection and strictest compliance with best building practice. A public building properly constructed should be serviceable to Morgan County for the next century, and the Commissioners will do well to have every block of material, and the ingredients of same thoroughly examined before they go into the work," Conley stated. He evidently gave the commissioners good advice because the present courthouse has been serving Morgan County for over 100 years!!

But apparently everyone wasn't satisfied with the building and there must have been some problems with the construction by the Falls City Construction Company of Louisville.

Haney, being the lawyer he was, began his argument for innocence in connection with the building of the courthouse: "Mr. Conley's letter explains itself and in a very definite way shows my position as to the construction of the courthouse and the precaution and care with which I attempted on my part, to approach and maintain a satisfactory and safe procedure in relation there to." Haney, as county attorney, asked the question in his letter to the editor, "You ask why was it not done that way?" My answer; because I stood alone. Now, Mr. Editor, under the rules of pleading, the defendant may offer as many available defenses as he may have, and since I have gone as far into the matter as I have, I now present another."

"After the courthouse was supposed to have been completed, and not being satisfied with it, I "raised sand" with the construction company, and almost forced them, or it, to execute another contract in which it agreed to make all deficiencies good. Immediately thereafter (I being county attorney at the time), I filed in the Morgan circuit court, a suit for several thousand dollars damage. The defendant in that case made a motion for a change of venue, and Judge Hannah sustained the motion and transferred the case to the Elliott circuit court. The then fiscal court (Morgan) would not agree to stand for the expenses which would be entailed by following up the case, including that of many witnesses, so I was thus hindered. It was not long then until my term of office expired, after which I had no further responsibilities or control as to the matter, the same passing to my successors in office.

"Well, that's that! Now, someone may say, why all this furor at this late day? Well, there's a reason. Here it is, in these "last days" of mine I am trying to remove a lot of rubbish which has accumulated about me in years past, some of which is due to my own conduct (which need not concern anyone else), and much of which like the above, comes from lack of information, suspicion, lack of confidence, malignity, envy, and misjudging on the part of others."

Haney's complaint with the courthouse may never be known but there was evidence that he tried in every way to do a good job with something he seemed to, admittedly, know little about. The Jehizah P. Haney family moved to Jackson sometime after the courthouse was built.

Paul Eugene Haney

Jehizah Haney was married to Sallie McClure, daughter of Dr. B. F. McClure. He was a teacher, an attorney, newspaper editor for the West Liberty Messenger, the Mt. Eagle at Whitesburg, and the newspaper at Jackson. In 1946, he moved back to Morgan County and was city Police Judge for a short time. Later (in 1947), his son, Paul R., and family also came to West Liberty. Paul Eugene, grandson of Jehizah, and a son of Paul R., became an outstanding athlete for West Liberty. He was a fine basketball player, earning a scholarship at Eastern Kentucky College. He played on the West Liberty semi-pro baseball team and later became an avid golfer. Paul also served a tour in the Marines during the Korean War as a 1st Lieutenant. He was married to Ruth Evelyn Franklin.

Jehiza P. Haney (1870-1952), his wife, Sallie McClure Haney (1880-1980), his son Paul R. Haney (1905-1951) and grandson Paul E. Haney (1932-1994) are buried in the Oliver Haney Cemetery on Stacy Fork.

During the next year or so, there will be much discussion about the fate of Morgan County's 100 year old courthouse and the building of a new $16 million Judicial Center (an additional $3 million has also been earmarked for furnishings for the center).

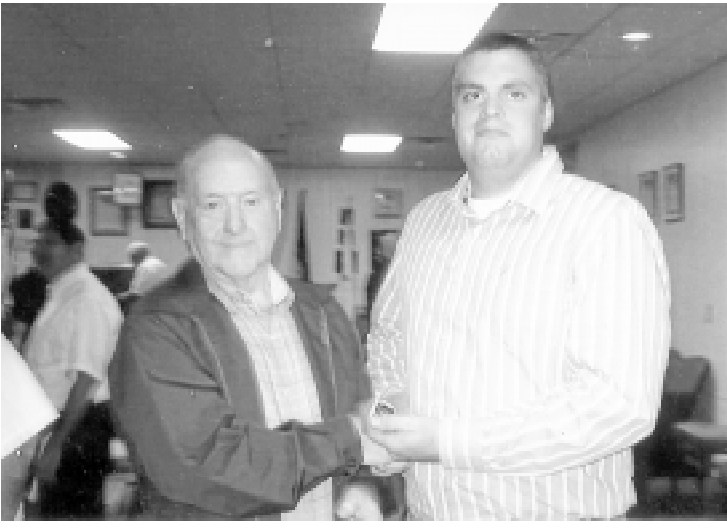

Our old courthouse is a survivor! It seems from its inception there have been those who have been dissatisfied with it. The building has survived years of neglect with leaking roofs, vandalism, and judges and courts that allowed the deterioration of the building perhaps from lack of funds, or plain indifference. In the 1970's it was condemned, left vacant and awaited the "wrecker's ball." Thanks to the citizens of the county, a persistent "Save the Courthouse Committee," and government funds secured by Congressman Carl Perkins it was saved. After the renovation in 1980 the building was probably in better condition than it was when it was built. The greatest thing to happen to the building was the leasing to A.O.C. (Administrative Office of the Courts). At present, we have a judge executive and fiscal court that are concerned with the state of repair of the building. Hopefully, a use will be found for the building.

IN MEMORIAM In Loving Memory Of Stephen Clarence Blair July 6, 1981 • Nov. 19, 2007 Little Brother,

It's been a year ago, that you went home to be with the Lord. It's been a very sad and lonely year without you.

You left a void that can never be filled. You were a great son, a wonderful brother and a terrific best friend. You could always find something good in everyone, including those who let you die. You had such a forgiving nature even to those who hurt you deeply.

Little Brother, you were truly one of a kind. I know you have found peace, and I want you to know that on this day, I remember, we all remember.

We miss you so much, life will never be the same.

Love,
Sisters, Sharon, Denise and Diana;
Mom and Dad,
and friends

POSSIBILITY

I've never met a person, I don't care what his condition, in whom I could not see possibilities. I don't care how much a man may consider himself a failure, I believe in him, for he can change the thing that is wrong in his life any time he is ready and prepared to do it.

Memory Hill & Roundabout

By Hazel B. Craft

Nov. 17--I must get the news in this week. So much has happened within the past two weeks.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Morris, who were recently killed in an accident on the road to Morehead. I think their funeral is today at one of the funeral homes in West Liberty. Also sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Ernest Risner, of Middle Fork, of Magoffin County. He is the son of the late Jack and Hazel Back Risner. He leaves to mourn his loss one brother, Orville Gene, and a sister, Sophia. That family was always close to Wardie and me. We spent many a night with them and Hazel cooked many great meals for us. Thanks for the ones who called about his death. He was a resident at the Salyersville Nursing Home. He was buried on the Punccheon Creek Cemetery by his parents.

Great services were held at the Redeemed Regular Baptist Church the past weekend. On Sunday night the services were turned over to the New Salem Association ministers. The ones who participated were Eddie Honaker, Jimmy Dye and Thomas Dials. We sure enjoyed their service. Wardie preached with most of them in the past. It was especially good to meet the Honakers. They are closely connected with the Myrtle Church of Melbourne, Florida. On Sunday Paul Pelphrey and Brian Turner were participants. Our little church is so proud of all who attend--some from a distance. We're all so proud of the way Elder Roy Collett conducts the service and Reba Grubbs who is in charge of the meals prepared both on Saturday night and Sunday.

I am so proud of Jay Shrader, of the Henry Clay High School, in Lexington. He was victorious the past week in the Jeopardy Teen Tournament. I have always been so proud of this high school from which I graduated in 1935. Sure wish the best for him at the next session.

Recently I received a call from Lois Phillips, of Franklin, Ohio. She said she enjoyed The Licking Valley Courier which I subscribed for them. They love Eastern Kentucky and their visits to Memory Hill. I know I enjoy them. They had never heard lined singing until they visited Memory Hill. I have an article about lined singing that is being conducted in a black church, in Florida. This custom is still carried on in some of the Old Baptist Churches. Don said he had never heard anything as interesting as the lined singing. I plan to have some copies made of this type of singing also I plan to have some copies made of Wardie and Gerald Hopkins preaching, especially one tape that they preached on "The Little City". When I get these two projects completed I will advertise them.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Melissa Patrick, 38, who was kidnapped from her home and shot to death recently. She was killed by Robin Mapel, an escaped inmate. Melissa lived at Malone. Mapel was also shot and was confined to the University Hospital in critical condition.

I want to sincerely thank each and everyone who calls or visits Memory Hill. I especially want to thank Bill Stamper and Wanda for their calls. Bill said he didn't know what would have happened to him if we hadn't of picked him up in Tennessee. He has always been very special to Wardie and me as have many of the others of our large family.

As of now I can't think of any more news. Goodbye until two weeks from now.

I don't want to fail to mention my nice phone conversation with Julia Benton. She said she had 22 great grandchildren.

Two country boys wandered into a brand new school in the city and found two men working in one of the rooms.

"Whatcha doin'?" asked one of the boys.

"Installing electric switches," answered a man.

"I'm glad we go to a country school," said the other boy. "They still switch us by hand."

Not to punish a child when he does wrong is an act of cruelty. It encourages further wrongdoing.

But to punish a child for doing wrong which he has learned from his parents is also an act of cruelty. It, too, encourages further wrongdoing.

There must be the discipline. But with the paddle, there should be first of all your prayers and your godly pattern.

Junction News

By Kathy Bolin

Nov. 17--Greetings from the Junction.

Happy Turkey Day to everyone! I know that the greeting is a little early, but next week I am going to Ohio to spend a few days with my sister and granddaughter. Not sure when The Courier will run next week.

Here are a list of my East Valley deer hunters that were fortunate to bag a deer this year. Hunter Keeton, 4 pt., Cody Hammonds, 8 pt., Jacob Wright, a doe and a buck?, Harley Martin's 4 pt., Trevor Potter, a doe, and Carlee Potter, a doe. Congratulations!!

Corey Adkins, grandson of Adison and Delphie Manley, and son of Greg and Paula Adkins, came off the hill at his home place with a 10 pt. Whew!

Herbert Wright and sister, Diane Cantrell, took a trip last week to Ohio to visit the miracle sister, Pearly Switzer, who is home recovering from a near death experience several weeks back. Pearly seemed to be in good spirits and doing well.

Buell Cantrell, of Lower Sandlick, is in St. Claire Hospital, Morehead. Buell was operated on for kidney stones. Get well soon!

Wednesday evening, Mavis Wright was taken to a Lexington hospital with chest pains. She was scheduled for a heart catheterization on Thursday morning.

Birthdays, Sam Blanton and Samuel Lee Blanton are having birthdays this month. Mary Brown, of White Oak, will be turning "50" on the 19th of November. I think it was "50" it might have been "47". Who knows? Charlie Robbins, of Lick Branch, and Joseph Hill on Nov. 25. Happy birthday.

TRUST HIM

There is one who if we trust Him guides our life o'er swelling tide. He came down on earth to save us, on the cross for us He died. Trust Him now, accept thy Saviour, for but He can sin atone. Trust Him, and when twilight cometh, He will not leave thee alone. Trust Him while thy life remaineth. He will gladden all thy days. Trust Him and for mercies given, ceaseless sing His glorious praise.

Bonny

By Faye Ferguson

Nov. 17--Hi everyone. Get well wishes to all the sick from everyone at Bonny.

Get well wishes to Gerald Amyx and Mack Vest. We hope you are doing better. Also to Randy King's mom. Hope you are doing better.

My sister, Marie, of Ohio, is home and feeling better after spending a few days in the hospital.

Virgil's brother, Charlie Ferguson, of Ohio, has not been feeling well lately. Our get well wishes to him.

We want to send our deepest sympathy to the family of Geneva May. Also to the Donnie Morris family. We were sorry to hear about Donnie and his wife being killed in a car accident. Donnie was my first cousin. May God bless you all.

We want to say hi to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ferguson. Hope you all are fine. You all have a good Thanksgiving.

To all my friends at Lee City Church and Johnny Davis' Church I want to say we love you all. May God bless everyone of you.

Happy birthday to our daughter, Janet Keeton. Janet we love you.

May God bless everyone until next time.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Earl,
I think that Veterans Day is over now is the time to send this in for print. I found this in a magazine about Viet Nam.

In one of the ugliest and most shameful episodes in U.S. History, the American people turned on their own soldiers. Even today there are far too many Americans who can't break free of the tired and bankrupt ideology of the 60s when it comes to those who served in Viet Nam. Even a Medal of Honor recipient like John Baker continues to experience it.

I find this to be true even today among all people, even here in our small town, even between some Viet Nam Vets. Even so, I wish each and every person that did what was asked of their country peace and one day I hope they will be proud of what they were. SOLDIERS.

Ronnie Conley,
Viet Nam Vet.

School board honors retirees

Recent retirees from the Morgan County School District were recognized at the Morgan County Board of Education meeting on November 10. Each retiree was presented with a plaque commemorating their many years of service to the students, parents and schools in the district. Recognized were, from left, Susan Walter, teacher, 29 years of service; Rebecca Bowersock, teacher, 28 years of service; Randall Williams, custodian, 25 years of service; Ivory Blevins, bus driver, 24 years of service, and Carolyn Lewis, teacher, 32 years of service.

Thanksgiving safety advice for the use of turkey fryers

Morgan County Emergency Management wishes everyone a safe and happy Thanksgiving holiday with these safety tips:

A longtime food favorite in the southern United States, the delicious deep-fried turkey has quickly grown in popularity thanks to celebrity chefs such as Martha Stewart and Emeril Lagasse.

We are worried by the increasing reports of fires related to turkey fryer use. Based on UL test findings, the fryers used to produce those great-tasting birds are not worth the risks. And, as a result of these tests:

Deep-Fryer Dangers

- Many units easily tip over, spilling the hot oil within the cooking pot.
- If the cooking pot is overfilled with oil, the oil may spill out of the unit when the turkey is placed into the cooking pot. Oil may hit the burner/flames, causing a fire to engulf the entire unit.
- Partially frozen turkeys placed into the fryer can cause a spillover effect. This too, may result in an extensive fire.

- With no thermostat controls, the units also have the potential to overheat the oil to the point of combustion.

• The sides of the cooking pot, lid and pot handles get dangerously hot, posing severe burn hazards.

Tips For Safer Use

- Turkey fryers should always be used outdoors a safe distance from buildings and any other material that can burn.
- Never use turkey fryers on wooden decks in garages.
- Make sure the fryers are used on a flat surface to reduce accidental tipping.
- Never leave the fryer unattended. Most units do not have thermostat controls. If you do not watch the fryer carefully, the oil will continue to heat until it catches fire.
- Never let children or pets near the fryer when in use. Even after use, never allow children or pets near the turkey fryer. The oil inside the cooking pot can remain dangerously hot, hours after use.

- To avoid oil spillover, do not overfill the fryer.

• Remember to use well-insulated potholders or oven mitts when touching pot or lid handles. If possible, wear safety goggles to protect your eyes from oil splatter.

- Make sure the turkey is completely thawed and be careful with marinades. Oil and water do not mix, and water causes oil to spill over, causing a fire or even an explosion hazard.

• The National Turkey Federation recommends refrigerator thawing and to allow approximately 24 hours for every five pounds of bird thawed in the refrigerator.

- Keep an all-purpose fire extinguisher nearby. Never use water to extinguish a grease fire. Remember to use your best judgement when attempting to fight a fire. If the fire is manageable, use an all-purpose fire extinguisher. If the fire increases, immediately call 911 for help.

• Even after use, never allow children or pets near the turkey fryer. The oil inside the cooking pots remains dangerously hot, hours after use.

Obama expected to tighten regs on mining, utilities

Coal operators and coal-fired utilities should brace for tougher regulation of mine safety, strip mining and especially greenhouse gas emissions when Barack Obama becomes president, Ken Ward Jr. tells West Virginia readers in this morning's Charleston Gazette. Interests that often oppose the coal industry "are looking for Obama to reverse Bush administration rule changes, beef up enforcement, and put the nation's first ever limits on carbon dioxide from power plants."

From the industry's point of view, Ward writes, "among the more important decisions will be Candice Combs, above, represented Hospice of the Bluegrass at a recent meeting of the West Liberty Kiwanis Club. Kiwanian Garry Elam, right, presented her with a Kiwanis coffee mug. The theme for the meeting was National Hospice and Palliative Care Month.

Kiwanians hear program on Hospice of the Bluegrass

The West Liberty Kiwanis Club recognized National Hospice and Palliative Care Month with a recent program presented by Candice Combs of Hospice of the Bluegrass.

Combs, a professional Hospice liaison from Hazard, told the Kiwanians that Hospice of the Bluegrass has provided quality end of life care to terminally ill patients and their families since 1978, with a comprehensive spectrum of care — from palliative outpatient services to in-home medical services to family and community support.

Combs said grief and bereavement services provided by Hospice extend to family members, caregivers, and anyone in grief whether or not their loved one was a hospice patient.

Hospice of the Bluegrass's interdisciplinary team members work in 32 northern, central, and eastern Kentucky counties, including Morgan County. The agency's commitment to quality service has earned it the Gold Seal of Approval by the Joint Commission and certification by the Centers of Medicare and Medicaid.

who takes over two government agencies that are little known outside the coalfields: the Labor Department's Mine Safety and Health Administration and the Interior Department's Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement. Decisions about such sub-Cabinet posts are months away."

The United Mine Workers and other mine-safety advocates want MSHA to reverse Bush administration actions and revive "more than a dozen tougher rule proposals that were dropped from the agency agenda after Bush took office in 2001," Ward reports. "And they want MSHA to focus less on 'compliance assistance' for operators and more on simply enforcing the federal Mine Safety Act ... speed up implementation of the 2006 MINER Act, and re-examine what MSHA is doing to combat a resurgence of black lung disease in Appalachia."

"Environmental groups are looking for similar efforts by Obama to toughen enforcement of water pollution and reclamation rules that govern strip mining," Ward writes. The groups disagree on whether mountaintop-removal mining should be limited by administrative action or by law, a route that would probably be more lasting but much more subject to politics and industry lobbying.

Cross Country Cougars run in regional meet at Maysville

On Saturday, Nov. 11, the Cross Country Cougars took to the country to run the Region 6, AA cross country meet at Maysville. The course was wet and the air was cold, and the Cougars boys and girls teams were short handed.

The boys' teams had Cory Linkous out with a shoulder injury, and Casey Ward was also out. Cory Harper and Tyler Haney both ran the race being on the backside of respiratory infections.

Cory Harper finished 36th with a time of 22:51.75. Cory Murphy finished with a time of 23:35.10, Tyler Haney finished with a time of 25:02.99, and Ryan Steele finished with a time of 25:08.47. The Cougars finished the season improving over last year's regional times and have high goals set for next year.

The girls' race followed. Lindsey Fugate finished 7th with a time of 22:35.29 and secured an at-large bid to run at the Kentucky Horse Park on Saturday, Nov. 15, in the State Cross Country Championships. Halley Wilson just missed out on an at-large bid and finished 23rd with a time of 26:30.86, almost two minutes faster than her old personal record set a couple of weeks before. Kim Hutchinson finished 28th with a time of 28:19.69, and Arin Oldfield finished 29th with a time of 28:20.75. The girls team has a bright future, with Kim and Arin being only freshman and the oldest of the female runners.

Lindsey Fugate finished as a member of the Region 6 Double A, "All Region Second Team" and was recognized at the awards ceremony.

Tyler Haney was the lone senior of the Cougars Cross Country team, as all seniors was honored during the awards ceremony. Tyler will be quick to tell you he is looking forward to track season, where he can show off his sprinting talents. Tyler will be missed next year as part of the cross country team.

Numbers were good this year for the cross country team. The Cougars finished with 19 runners, about 10 more than a year ago. If anyone is interested in running cross country next season, start running a little each week and watch the June/July papers for practices to start.

We want to wish Lindsey Fugate good luck next week at the state meet.

Lindsey Fugate was recognized with a medal for her seventh place finish.

Cougars wind up season with a 53-0 loss to Corbin in playoffs

Cantrell and Nickell selected for berths on the All-EKC team

By David Patrick

Lance Freeman passed for 115 yards and three touchdowns as Corbin eliminated Morgan County from post-season play with a 53-0 rout in the opening round of the 2-A Gridiron Bowl.

Corbin got all the points it needed early with three touchdowns early. The Cougars were simply outmatched by the undefeated Redhounds, who came into the game outscoring their opponents by three touchdowns per game.

"Corbin just has too many athletes and they come at you in waves," said Cougar head coach Jake Purnell. "We could have lined up the players and our entire coaching staff and it would not have mattered. They're by far the best team we've played this year."

The loss dropped the Cougars' season record to 0-11. Morgan managed a combined 16 points in its final four games, while giving up 208—including 50-plus in the losses to Clay County, East Carter and Corbin.

Not much went right for the Cougars, but Purnell did credit freshman Jeff Smith for "good tackling" on the defensive end. Jamie Ferguson also received praise from the coach with his effective blocking in the running game.

Ryan Flannery led the Cougar ground game with 55 yards on 10 carries. Taylor McKnight finished with 10 carries for 25 yards.

Donovan Stacy was another bright spot for the Cougars. Stacy returned five kicks for 132 yards. He also had four tackles and had one interception.

Despite the blowout loss, Morgan did receive a bit of good news with lineman Nate Cantrell and receiver Joel Nickell both being named to the All-EKC team.

EDITOR'S NOTE

According to a source whose veracity is seldom questioned, the persons responsible for the "hook and ladder" play called by the Cougars in the East Carter game were Darrell Bradley and Donnie McKenzie.

Tobacco Road Blowout

It was indeed ugly and it could have been worse. As expected, North Carolina beat Kentucky Tuesday night in Chapel Hill. The Wildcats played poorly enough to lose by 40 – making the final 19-point deficit a bit deceiving. Billy Gillespie's team committed 28 turnovers against the Tar Heels, bringing the Cats' two-game total to an embarrassing 53 miscues.

UNC dismantled Kentucky even without the services of All-American Tyler Hansbrough, who is still recovering from a shin injury. Roy Williams's team out-shot, out-hustled and out-rebounded the Cats to a double-digit lead less than four minutes into the game. Kentucky committed six turnovers to contribute to an early 15-2 Carolina lead. And although Billy Gillespie's team somehow kept the deficit at only 16 points by the half, Carolina put it on cruise control the rest of the way for the 19-point win.

Jodie Meeks finished with 19 points, but shot his arm off to do it. The junior guard finished with more turnovers (six) than shots made (five) in 20 attempts. Patrick Patterson struggled to get his hands on the ball, but tied for team-high honors with 19 points and 11 rebounds. The duo accounted for 31 of their team's 45 shot attempts.

Speaking of shooting, the Cats were better percentage-wise than UNC (44 to 41) and out-rebounded the Heels (33 to 31). But Carolina committed 18 fewer turnovers than did the Cats – which was easily the difference in the game. The cats got no closer than 11 points and trailed by as many as 21 in the second half.

The game marked UK's fourth loss in six tries at Chapel Hill. The Wildcats are now 5-13 all-time against number one ranked teams.

If you are looking for a bright spot, here it is. The last time UK began the season losing its first two game back-to-back was in 2000-2001. However, the cats rebounded to finish 22-10, win the SEC East and advance to the NCAA Sweet 16. Right now, UK would settle for its first win, which – God willing – should come this Saturday against Delaware State.

Blue Mountain Grass to perform at Farmers, Ky.

Mike Havens and Blue Mountain Grass fans will get a chance to see and hear this fine bluegrass group on Friday evening, Nov. 21, when they go on stage at Jenny's Music Barn, at Farmers, Ky. Music begins at 8 p.m.

In addition to Mike Havens who sings lead vocals and plays guitar, the band is made up of Lee County native, Debi Brandenburg Horton, who makes her home at Mize in Morgan County, Wolfe Countians, Mike Wilson and Keith Prater, and Michelle Wallace, of Elliott County.

The release of a new project from this group came in September of this year. The new CD, entitled "Special Requests", contains traditional bluegrass and gospel music, as well as two original songs written by Mr. Havens. As the band travels from show to show, fans often have special requests, thus came the name of the CD which contains many of the most requested songs.

Keith Prater sings lead on four selections on this release. A dynamic singer, Keith plays mandolin with a hard driving style that bring his audiences alive. He comes from a long line of musicians, with his grandfather being well known for claw hammer style banjo picking. When you hear him sing and play it is evident that music is in his blood.

The wonderful talents of Mike Wilson's skillful banjo picking compliment this project in an awesome way. Mike has a banjo picking style that is crisp and clear, and full of life. His musical capabilities doesn't stop with the banjo. He is able to play most any stringed instrument quite well. He has successfully tried his hand at songwriting, with two of his originals being recorded on the group's "Down By The River" CD.

Debi Horton's outstanding harmony vocals blend very well with others on the project. In addition to harmony singing and fiddle playing, Debi added to this project with her version of the humorous story of the Three Little Pigs.

The newest member of this group, upright bass player, Michelle Wallace, did a fine job adding bass to this CD. Her superior bass playing has earned her several awards down through the years.

"Special Requests" and other Blue Mountain Grass CDs will be on sale at the record table during the show at Jenny's Music Barn. Come out and visit with Mike Havens, Debi Horton, Mike Wilson, Keith Prater, Michelle Wallace, and Mark "Hobo" Jackson, (sound technician for the band), and enjoy the show... Friday, Nov. 21, 8 p.m., at Jenny's Music Barn.

CDs may be purchased locally from Lykins Pawn and Music Shop, in West Liberty, Oldfield's Store, at Mize, and Vera's Music Shop, at Ezel, or by contacting Mr. Havens, at (606) 743-7752.

Special Thanks

A special thank you goes to Randy Risner and employees for providing portable restroom services at an outdoor show earlier this fall.

Local farmers can take advantage of new farm bill

New federal legislation now allows farmers and landowners of farms with 10 or fewer base acres the opportunity to receive payments for the 2008 Direct and Counter-Cyclical Payment Program (DCP). On Oct. 13, 2008, Pres. George W. Bush signed a bill that made amendments to the 2008 Farm Bill.

Originally, the 2008 Farm Bill prohibited DCP payments on farms with 10 acres of base or less, unless the farm is wholly owned by a socially disadvantaged farmer or limited resource farmers. The 2008 enrollment period for the DCP on farms with greater than 10 base acres ended Sept. 30.

With the passage of new legislation, these farms may now be enrolled and paid. A new enrollment period to sign contracts is now underway at FSA offices. The final date to enroll these small farms is Wednesday, Nov. 26.

For more information on Kentucky DCP 10 base acres or less sign-up, contact your local FSA office or visit FSA's website at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>.

One night, Matthew Henry was robbed. He later prayed, "I thank Thee, Lord, that I was never robbed before; although they took my purse they didn't take my life; and although they took my all, it wasn't much; and it aww I who was robbed, not I who robbed."

It's difficult to be grateful and gripey at the same time; it's hard to be thankful and touchy at the same instant; it's impossible to be praiseful and pessimistic at the same moment.

The Bible says, "Always be joyful. No matter what happens, always be thankful."

Snow and ice removal priorities are announced

JACKSON, Ky. - The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet's Department of Highways has established priority routes for snow and ice removal for the upcoming winter season in Morgan County.

The Department of Highways is responsible for keeping approximately 255 miles of state-maintained roadway in Morgan County passable in inclement weather. It sets snow removal priorities according to the amount and nature of traffic on the routes within each individual county. Priority A routes include major through routes and are those most heavily traveled. Priority B routes include other important, but lesser traveled, routes in the county. Other roads fall into Priority C.

In Morgan County, Priority A highways are the Bert T. Combs Mountain Parkway, US 460, KY

7, KY 203, KY 205, KY 519 and a portion of KY 172. Priority B routes include KY 134, KY 191, KY 1010 and portions of KY 172, KY 705, KY 772 and KY 946. Other routes are Priority C.

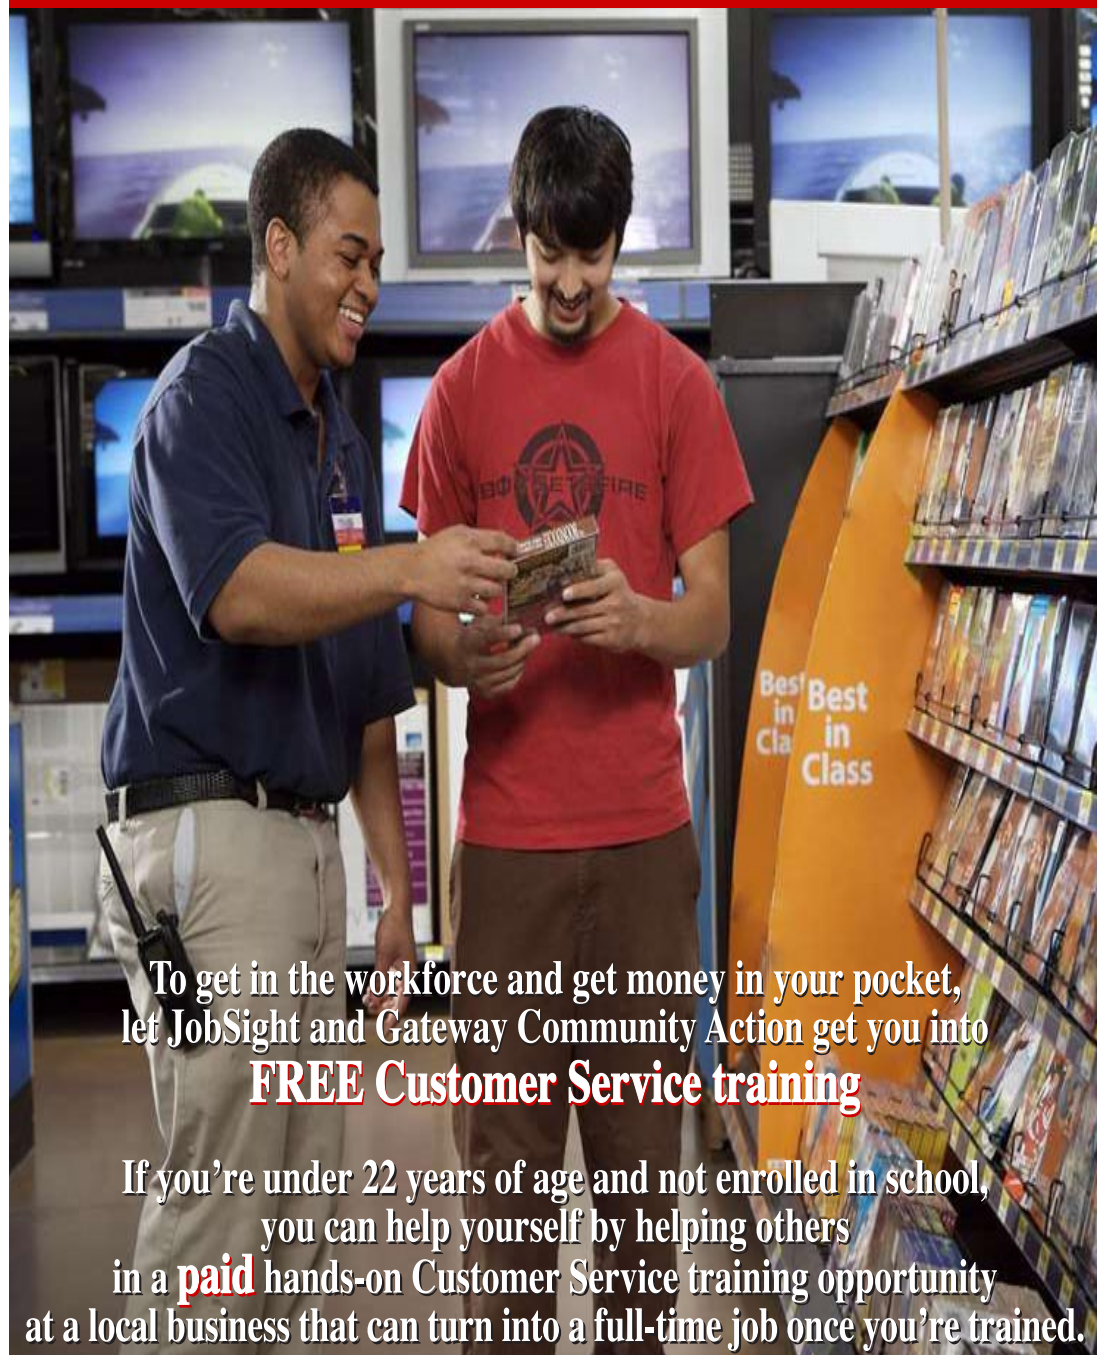

"The Transportation Cabinet recognizes how important roadway conditions are to Kentucky motorists," said Tim Adams, acting chief district engineer. We are dedicated to keeping these roadways clear and safe for travel. Our snow removal crews will work long, hard hours during the winter to keep our highways passable."

"We just ask for motorists' patience during snow removal operations," Adams added. "Drivers should slow down, keep an eye out for snowplows, and remember to buckle up to ensure their safety."

For the latest road conditions in bad weather, motorists may dial 511 to hear traffic and travel information. Signs have been erected throughout the 10 counties of District 10 to promote the 511 service.

JACK FROST

Jack frost came a sneekin;
oone chilly,autumn night.
Woludn't you know?
He touched everyting in sight!

Oh.he paints a pretty picture.
as we see by the rising sun.
The beauty of his work shows,
But not the change he has done

The weeds and the flowers,
the tomatoes and the corn,
All were banging their heads,
By the middle of the morn.

So once again ol' Jack,
Puts an end to the growin'
He came and went quickly,
Without his face showen'!

By, Joan Kyar-Frayholtz.

Chris Adams takes part in Governor's Scholars pgm.

A Rowan County Senior High School recently participated in the 2008 Governor's Scholars program at Transylvania University, where the Governor's School for the Arts (GSA).

Chris Adams, who worked to improve his vocal skills as a Governor's Scholar, was one of more than 1,300 students who auditioned for a spot in the GSA program. Less than 250 students are accepted into the GSA summer residency annually.

The GSA provided Adams with intensive voice lessons from talented instructors, as well as seminars, master classes and workshops that were designed to encourage students and help them gain focus for the future.

"The instructors were more than just teachers; they were mentors," Adams said. "This was an exhilarating experience and definitely something that I would recommend to everyone."

Adams noted that the GSA gave him the confidence and drive to begin working hard toward his dreams.

Chris is the son of Robbie and Chris Adams attended the Governor's School for the Arts at Transylvania University this past summer. While at GSA, he worked at improving his vocal skills.

Missy Adams, and the brother of Robyn Adams, of Morehead. He is the grandson of Colleen Bolin, of Morgan County, and the late Millard Boyd, who died in Vietnam in 1969. We all love you! Chris, and are so proud of you!

Financial advice for college students who want to save

Early planing could help cut the cost of getting a college education.

One of the biggest college expenses is tuition. You can save on tuition at many colleges by taking more classes each semester. That is because many schools charge a flat rate if you are a full-time student, whether you are taking 12 credit hours or 18 credit hours. If you need 120 hours to graduate and only take 12 hours a semester, it will take you 10 semesters to finish. But if you take 18 hours each semester, you can finish in seven semesters. And the cost of tuition has not been going down lately.

If you are still in high school, check into Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate and dual-credit courses. You may be able to start college with enough credit hours to knock off a semester of classes.

Books are also expensive. You can save on textbooks by buying used copies whenever possible. Other ways to cut on book costs to rent a textbook if your school has a rental program, or check books out of the library. Some college have book exchanges where students sell to each other. The seller gets more than a bookstore would pay, and the buyer pays less than a bookstore would charge.

You can save money by keeping low-cost snacks in your room instead of going out for fast food all the time. Buying supplies like pens, pencils and notebooks on sale or in bulk may also help out.
